

En Pointe Technologies To Provide Technical Support to Entertainment Industry Leader

Los Angeles, CA – July 29, 2002 – En Pointe Technologies, Inc. (NASDAQ:ENPT), a leading national provider of information technology products and services, has signed a three-year agreement to provide technical support services to one of the entertainment industry's leading firms. Initially supporting equipment at six of its major television network sites, the agreement will ultimately include another 25 of the parent company's locations. This agreement calls for En Pointe to provide managed support services for over 200 servers, 1,200 desktop workstations and 800 peripherals.

“Working together with a key global partner, En Pointe continues to develop strategic alliances to penetrate new industry segments,” said Kathy Perez, Vice President of Enterprise Sales. “This is another example of our ability to seamlessly integrate our service offerings with that of our partners to meet our end customer's requirements.”

En Pointe's Professional Services organization has over 225 trained, technology service professionals with a presence in approximately 20 metropolitan areas throughout the U.S. En Pointe's service offerings include: IMAC services, multi-vendor break/fix support, Enterprise Help Desk (internal and external), warranty services and design engineering. The En Pointe service organization provides support to En Pointe's hardware and software procurement service enterprise customers.
