In structuring the sale, SalesCo will transfer substantially all of its service employees and related contracts to its wholly-owned subsidiary, En Pointe Global Services, LLC ("EPGS").

We will be one of the few companies to offer comprehensive offshore based I.T. solutions coupled with our U.S. based sales, project management, dispatch, field technicians and local engineers. ADSL also gives En Pointe Global Services the strong financial platform to continue to accelerate growth and expand its current offerings. En Pointe will continue to sell I.T. hardware and software licensing and will work closely with the En Pointe Global Services teams to offer our mutual customers the three pillars we have built En Pointe on, hardware, software and services."

En Pointe Global Services will give us a large portfolio of premier customers, a mature sales and delivery team and field technicians and engineers across the U.S. It is our intent to leave the EPGS organization completely intact and operate autonomously with current management. The CEO of En Pointe Technologies, Inc., Bob Din, will serve on the board of En Pointe Global Services as a representative of SalesCo.
